FOREWORD and DEDICATION

In these days of total war, no annual would be complete without some thought of the men and women who are fighting on far-flung fronts.

It seems only fitting and appropriate, then, that we dedicate our senior yearbook to the students and teachers defending and serving their country as they have served before in school.

They are of our geneation — they fight, and sacrifice their personal desires, to keep alive the things we cherish. It is such things — memories of school years, a happiness and a way of living, shared with their fellows — which will ever serve as a spur to them.

Each age has had its ideals; each war has had its heroes. Many have been the statues, buildings, poems and other works completed in honor of these men and ideals. None, no matter how great or how small, has been dedicated with any more respect, honor, and love than we give with this dedication to you — living and dead —

The men and women of our Armed Forces.

Just as the hills will echo and re-echo your praises, so will our voices and the voices of those who read this book be raised in proud salute to you!

We dedicate our book to all of those
Who courageously answered our country's call;
But to our three boys special tribute goes
For they're part of us and we love them all.
They left their homes for the horrors of war;
Their loving parents, their church and the school,
Picnics and dances, and friends by the score,
The basket-ball court and the drug-store stool:

Leaving these things which had once seemed trifles
The hang-out, the gang, and familiar sights;
Laying down pencils, shouldering rifles
They sacrifice youth to defend our rights:
Though they long to return, they're fighting yet.
Pause often and think of them: Lest We Forget.

O'er all Fredonia towering high above
Stands our noble high school that we all have learned to love

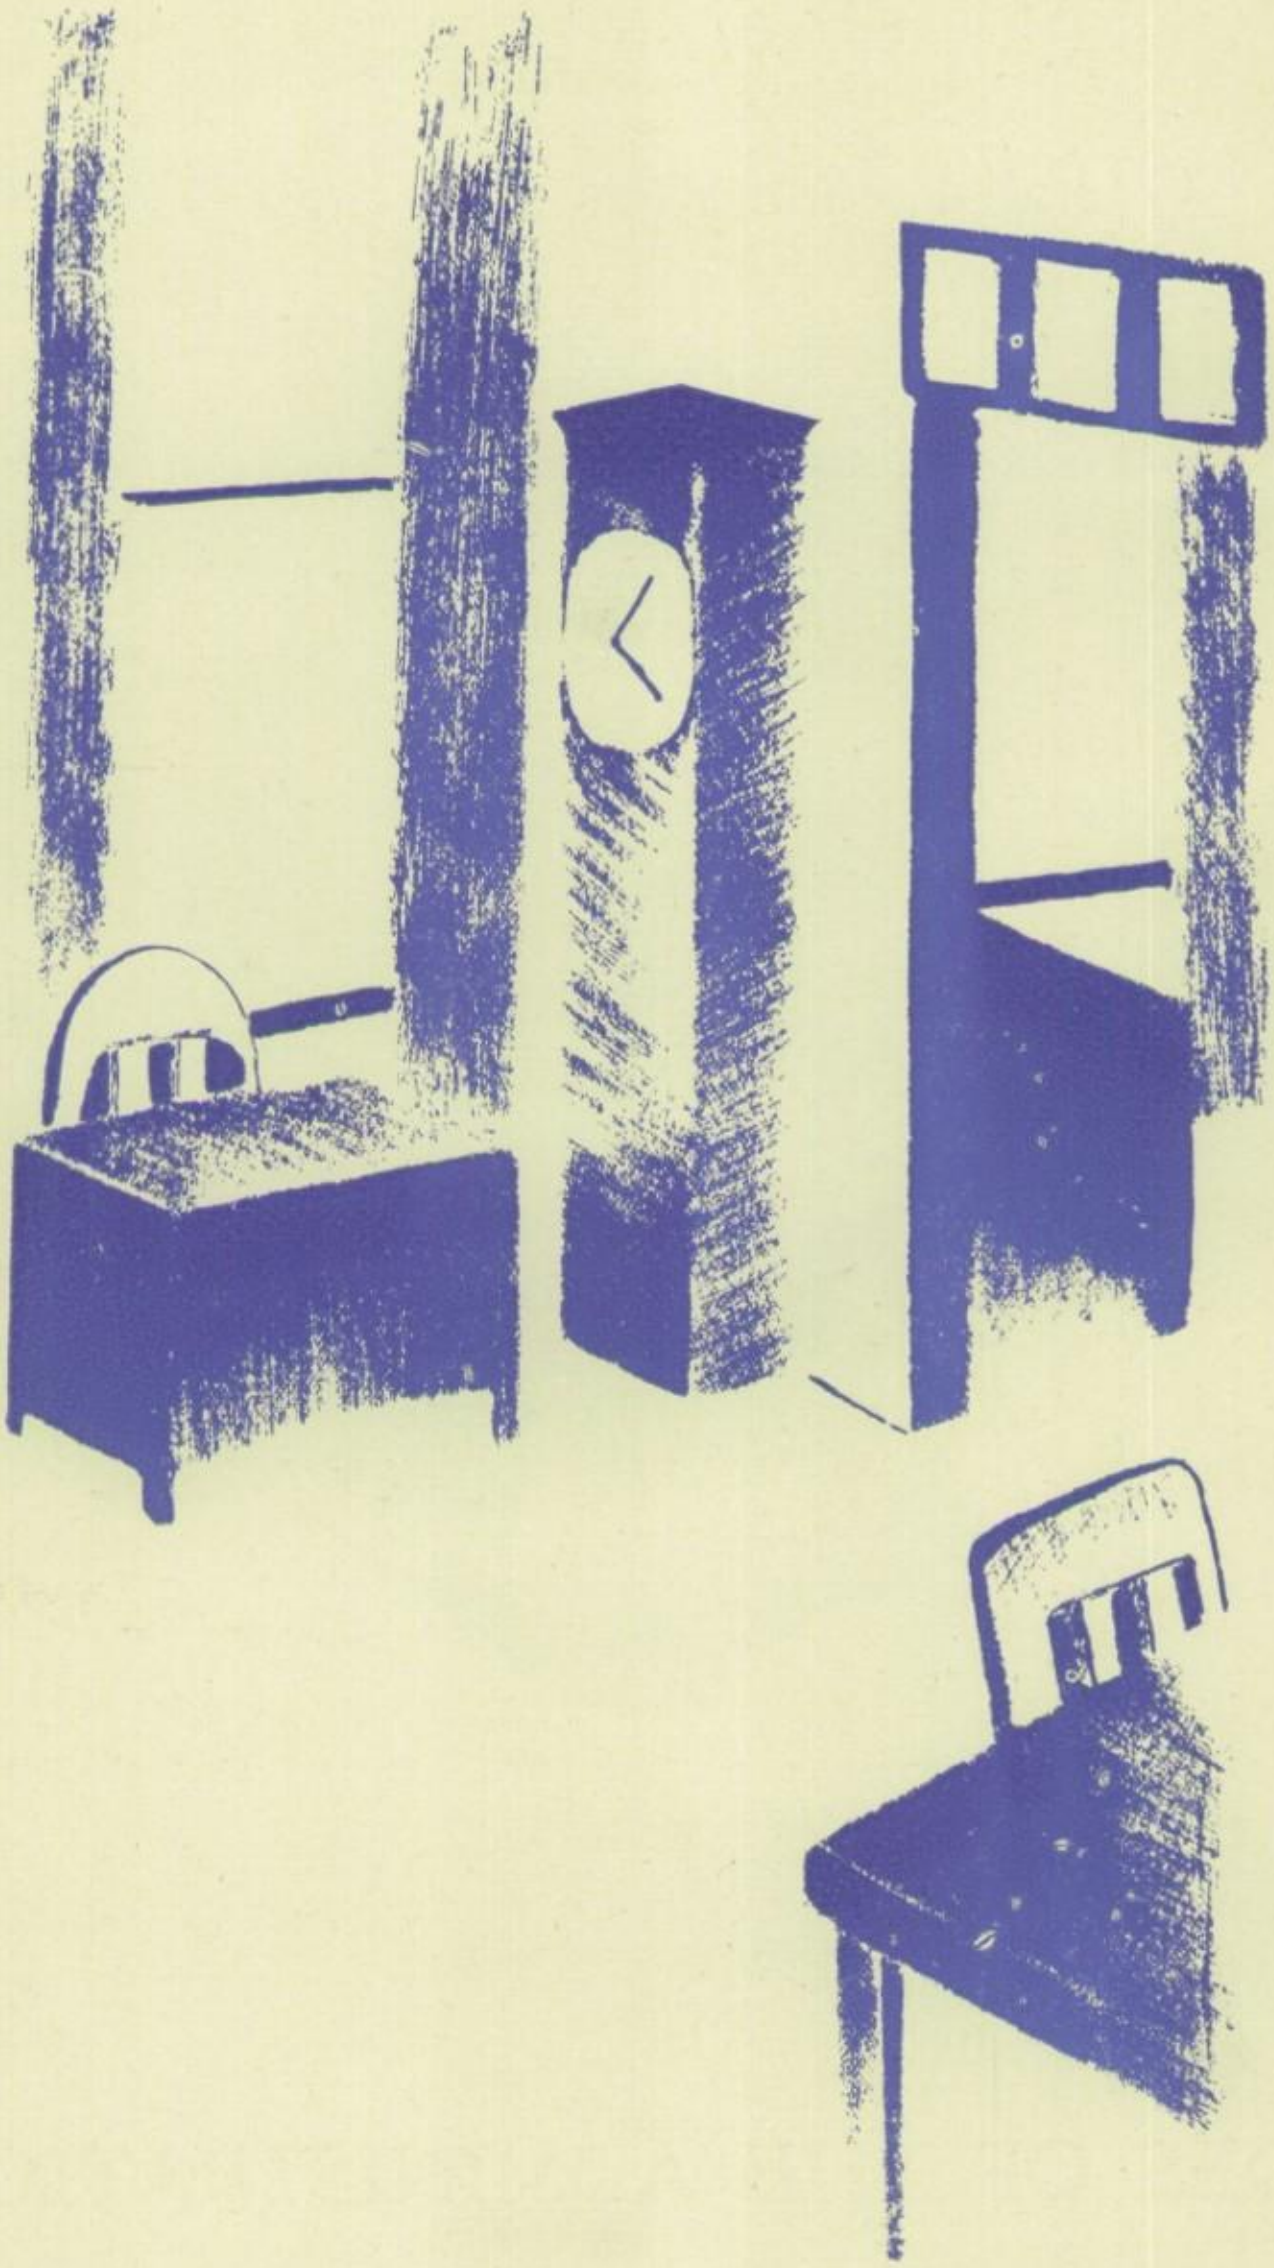
ECHOES OF THE ADMINISTRATION



Whenever, in coming years, we think of F.H.S., one of the first images to come to mind will be the office. It's a large room overlooking the entire campus, as befits it, for it is here that a great part of the work of administration is done.

Mr. Dye's office — how often have we heard his friendly "Hello, won't you come in?" — the busy pecking of the typewriter under Mrs. Fink's able fingers — Mrs. Hassett's voice.

These and many more things will echo in our minds and recall school to us.

TRIBUTE TO CLAUDE R. DYE

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

These are the words of the poet, but they most aptly describe the forty years of service of our friend, helper, guide, counsellor and fellow teacher, Mr. C. R. Dye, who retires as our school superintendent at the end of the present term. He has left his mark indelibly imprinted upon the lives of many in these forty years of service. A man of character, ability, integrity, and honor, he can justly and proudly look back over those years with satisfaction knowing that his has been a job well done.

THE SCHOOL-ON-THE-HILL

. . . . and I'm the center, the heart of their thoughts; my halls have heard their noisy shouts; my trees have sheltered them from the sun. From out my doors have gone those who are the foundation of the town below. As long as they and their children live, I shall echo and re-echo through the years. I AM FHS.

The aim of the National Honor Society is to make good citizenship in high schools a matter of distinction. Those students who rank in the upper third of their classes are eligible for membership in the society so it is inevitable that the leaders come from those who rank high in mentality and achievement. But the National Honor Society is more than an association of students of high scholastic attainments. It also aims to stimulate the character, scholarship, leadership, and service of the students of the secondary schools of this country.

In the latter part of February, the faculty chose ten new members, — six senior members and four junior members who were inducted at a special chapel program. In order to make all pupils of the school aware of the primary aims of the Society, impressive rituals of induction have been established. This year, as in the past, the officers of our school chapter used an elaborate "tapping" ceremony which was acclaimed the most impressive program of the year.

From far and near we hear the

ECHOES FROM THE FACULTY

The past few years have seen many changes in high school life. Because of the war the tempo of things has greatly increased. High school students find an increasingly great number of tasks to perform, duties to be done. We are learning to be fighters in a world of war and preparing to be good citizens in a world at peace.

This is a stupendous task, and one which we could never accomplish, if it were not for the guidance and ever present assistance of our friends, the faculty of F. H. S. We will always remember you with the deepest gratitude.

ECHOES FROM THE HOME ROOMS

In song and verse, the story of homeroom has been told many times. But in reality, there is no need to have such reminders.

The voices of friends made throughout our school years will echo and re-echo in the course of each day.

The excitment of freshman homeroom and meeting new classmates, the fun of renewing these friendships as sophomores and juniors, and finally, the new experiences of senior homeroom will ever be the things we shall remember best about high school.

JUNIOR CLASS

Laughter in corridors, "Oh, nobby one!"; squeals of delight, "Guess who's taking me to the dance?"; sighs of woe. "This man shortage makes me sick!" Yes, these scenes have become symbols of a Junior girl.

Groans of dismay, "Boy, did Coach give us a workout yesterday. I can hardly move!"; arguing in locker rooms, "2 to 1 we win the next game!"; frowns and sighs, "Wonder who has his English done? It's not long before a Junior boy is well known because of these familiar phrases.

Yet, all is not laughter and groans in the class of '46. The Juniors, well represented in athletics, music, debate, and dramatics, have their fingers in every promising pie in F.H.S.

During the terrible snowstorms experienced this winter the fine representation of Juniors helped to continue the usual routine of school life.

The wholehearted support of the Junior class for the March of Dimes was admirable. This worthy cause was met with such enthusiasm, it wasn't long before the Juniors had a 100% support.

Like a huge pendulum so swing the emotions of the versatile Juniors. Taking everything in their stride, this lively class is composed of the Juniors of today, the seniors of tomorrow.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The outstanding hope of the class of '47 is that we may graduate in a peaceful world. Realizing that our duty at present is to perform our daily tasks in the best possible manner, we have entered into school work and extra activities with diligence and enthusiasm.

We, the sophomore class of 1945, have never known what it means to attend high school in peacetime. Most of us have brothers, sisters or close relatives in the service of our country. We take pride in the fact that many of our outside activities have been influenced by the desire to serve in our own small way.

The Alpha-Xi-Zeta gave the proceeds of a school dance to the March of Dimes. The sophomore class itself contributed 100% to the drive. Aside from the war acticities many of the members participate in glee club, band, dramatics, debate and sports. As a whole the graduating class of '47 will be one of the best that has ever come out of Fredonia High School.

FRESHMAN CLASS

At the beginning of this year, the class of '48, entered a new world, in which we were to take part during the coming four years. Gradually we become accustomed to this world and we expect to accomplish much before leaving F.H.S.

Our freshman class consists of ninety members, nearly all of whom participate in at least one of the many activities provided. We are represented in basketball, footbali, bowling, glee club, band, and orchestra.. All these help make up a busy freshman schedule.

We are proud of our freshman class and we intend to end the four years with many achievements to our credit.

Keep an eye on the class of '48! You can expect to hear a great deal of us during our stay. We are going to make it a profitable and enjoyable four years at good old F.H.S.

CLASS OF 1945

BESSIE C. HANISER, Adviser

A volley of thundering voices, a fist pounding the desk to emphasize the words of a boisterous speaker; yes, it's the seniors again! These frequent noon-hour discussions on politics, religion, etc., are carried on with such enthusiasm that one would think all the world's problems were being solved in Room 37.

This year's senior class is just one big happy family. Although an unusually small group, they have demonstrated their ambition and enthusiasm by breaking all records set by former classes. Inspired by the drive of their adviser, they sold amazing numbers of Christmas cards, magazines and "Hilltopper" subscriptions. They also produced the first senior play ever presented in F.H.S.; one that will long be remembered as a most hilarious, entertaining three-act comedy.

The class of '45 unwillingly relinquishes its place to make way for another. Throughout their lives, the members of this class will cherish memories of a school they'll never forget.

ECHOES FROM CLUB LIFE

Regular school work is important, true, — but what would high school be without National Forensic League, Hi-Y, On-the-Hill and the many other clubs which form any student's extra-curricular life.

Just as pictured opposite, very often have we stood before the bulletin board to read of the latest activities in the various clubs. With what excitement did we await the announcement of the actors in the senior play; what a thrill when we read our own name on the list of newly-elected Sea Scouts.

Truly will the voices of these clubs echo in each life.

As in the past, the student council has taken its place in leading the student body through another successful year.

The aim of the student council was to eliminate tardiness. The old plan of two years ago, registering all tardy people, was used and proved very successful.

On Mach 6, the group was entertained by the Home Economics Department at a tea. Mrs. Smith, one of our faculty advisers, poured, and Mr. Dye, our other adviser, was present as special guest.

A very unusual party was held in May, sponsored by the council. Not only was dancing the prominent activity, but ping-pong and card games were provided for those who did not care to dance. The party turned out to be one of the biggest successes of the year.

The whole school knows that in time of need the student council will always be on hand to assist in any way possible.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

OFFICERS

MR. ROBERT TALLMAN - - - President

MRS. CLARA HASSETT - - Secretary-Treasurer

The year 1945 has seen many new additions to the activities in FHS. Not the least of these is the reorganized Athletic Council. We have sports, it is true, and our interest has been great; nevertheless, we feel that the reorganization of the Athletic Council will foster greater interest in athletics.

One of the most important actions of the Athletic Council this year was the establishment of a new set of rules governing participation in athletics. These rules are much the same as our previous ones, with one exception: the new scholastic requirements. This clause states that no student is eligible for sports who does not maintain an average of 75% in three subjects. Also, all post-graduates must carry at least four school units and physical education regularly to be eligible.

The aim of the Athletic Council is to maintain scholarship as well as athletic ability. The first year's work has set a firm foundation. May the good work continue.

Dependability, co-operation, and promptness are all traits of the 1945 staff of "On-the-Hill", our school newspaper which is published in a special section of the weekly town paper, "The Censor". This year's senior class has displayed such interest in working on the paper that it has been necessary to have two separate staffs.

Practical and valuable experience has been obtained by all members of the staff. Each member has learned that he must be depended upon to report all school activities clearly and accurately. He realizes that co-operation and teamwork are necessary to carry on the work of a good newspaper. And finally, he has learned the importance of having one's articles in on time, for every newspaper must meet its "deadline". Writers and reporters of ability have certainly been numerous on this staff.

Although its activities have been limited by many difficulties brought on by the war, the National Forensic League continues to function in Fredonia High School. In debate the members have carried on by holding Intramural debates and by appearing before several of our Service Clubs. In addition the members have also been keynote speakers at Community Clubs and local branches of National Organizations.

No write-up for Fredonia's chapter of the National Forsenic League would be complete without a mention of the Sectional and State Tournaments in which we took part. Fredonia's participants won first place in the sectional meet in all contests. This made us eligible for the State championship contests at Poughkeepsie, New York in April. We came home, triumphant, with a Team Trophy . . . and many memories of happy and exciting moments.

Fellowship has been the by-word of these male leaders of our school. Our purpose has been to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

During the year, we went on swims, sent a delegate to Albany, gave dances, conducted an induction banquet for new candidates, have been represented at both Area and State Hi-Y Assemblies, and provided money for worthy civic causes. Through our meetings we have brought closer the bond of friendship and comradeship which exists among ourselves. The Alpha chapter has been constantly concerned in activities of a physical, spiritual, and social nature. Wartime conditions have curtailed or hindered our functions, but we have kept in mind our platform: clean speech, clean scholarship, clean sportsmenship, and clean living.

The Beta Hi--Y is a group of fellows who believe in having a good time with no strings attached. The group this year numbers seventeen, ten of whom are new members. Excluded from the count are two boys who have gone into the service.

The annual basketball game was held in March this year. The Beta Hi-Y triumphed over its old rival the Alpha by a score of twenty-three points. Not satisfied with the results, the Alpha called another game. In the second game the Alpha won by three points.

Under the guidance of their adviser the boys in the Beta sponsored a table tennis tournament which proved to be exciting.

Although the activities mentioned above are all of the athletic type both Hi-Y had their serious side. The week before Easter Beta and Alpha joined in carrying on Holy Week services for the high school students.

The Aviation Club promotes the construction of model aircraft and the study of the world's aircraft. During the present war the standard of military aircraft has been raised considerably and the club has kept in step with the latest trends.

The club's model engine has been repaired and is now in excellent running order. It is hoped that the engine will soon be installed in the club's large flying model.

The activities of the club have been somewhat restricted this year because of the lack of a suitable meeting night; but, in spite of this, the club has accomplished much, such as the repairing of the engine mentioned above.

Business meetings were held noon hours on Tuesdays in the Homemaking rooms with all members bringing their lunches. However, our social activities were held after school hours. We have had several social affairs including parties, picnics, a tea for the Student Council, and hikes. New members were initiated at the Valentine party.

The purposes of our club are to help us do things we couldn't do otherwise, to be of service to the department and the school, and to promote social opportunities. One of the things which the members of the club did for the department was participating in the painting of the new Homemaking room.

The Golden Horseshoe Club! Just what is it, a club in which only those who are experts at the noble sport of horseshoe throwing can be members? Our roving reporter was moved to great curiosity about this newly-formed club. After one look at the members, he sees that they are indeed one of our foremost freshmen clubs. Each "man" is a Freshman. Think of what he will be able to do in four years' time!

Even now it is possible to imagine Norman Beamish or William Kerr speaking to us, in the measured tones of the orator, from the rostrum. The Golden Horse shoe's purpose is to better literary and speaking ability and we know each and every member will succeed. As the president says; "We are not geniuses; but just a grand group of fellows. We admit we are sometimes mischievous, but we are a well-meant club, trying to do our daily lessons in English."

If you happen to look through the door of room twenty-three the first period on a Wednesday morning, you will see a group of freshman girls at work. They are the members of the Dragon Lily Club.

In this club, the members take turns at being on the program committee for the week. The programs, which take place after a formal meeting, consist of recitations or dramatizations. These give the girls a chance to get accustomed to speaking in front of a group, gain self-confidence in this field, and to learn parliamentary law.

During the Hilltopper picture week we had a memorable experience when, on looking at the schedule for the picture, we discovered that we were being called the Dragon Fly Club in place of our selected name.

We have been given a chance to display our talents in many ways, and have sent some of our best rhymes for competition with others from New York State to a magazine in Albany which will publish the best.

MISS BESSIE MERRITT, Adviser

During the first term of this school year the second period freshmen, English class instructed by Miss Merritt, decided to form a club which would help the members to develop good public speaking habits and to learn the basic fundamentals of Parliamentary law.

The reason for two sets of officers is to teach more members what to do if they should be elected into any club. A few of the topics talked about are famous places in the world, great inventors, and short stories and poems.

Each Wednesday the club has a meeting. At this meeting there is a program, put on by a picked committee. Each person on the committee tells a story, recites a poem, or tells of an incident in which he took part. Sometimes there are plays, but in each case the chairman of the program decides which it will be.

This year, the Science Club has been somewhat handicapped because of the lack of transportation facilities. In former years, the members made many trips to different factories in different cities. Since this was an impossibility this year, the members held their meetings in the high school laboratory where they performed many interesting experiments. Mr. Tallman often surprised the group with movies on various subjects of scientific interest.

Every spring the Science Club members satisfy their desire to commune with nature. This year the members had a memorable time at the traditional Science Club picnic. A dance held earlier in the year resulted in enough profits to pay picnic expenses.

This Club is an active, instructive organization and because of the interest created by it, some of our members have decided to make the field of science their life work.

The Stamp Club of FHS is one of the up and coming groups of the school. It isn't a large group, but it takes a great interest in school activities. Its motto seems to be "Quality not quantity". It meets every first and third Wednesday of each month under the able leadership of its adviser, Mr. Dye.

A contribution was made to the "March of Dimes" fund. The club also held a dance which was a huge success. As yet it has not been decided what use to make of the proceeds of the affair. Plans are being seriously discussed to begin a fund for a new scoreboard for the school.

The Stamp Club tries at all times to uphold the ideals of its school and to be a fine working member of the community as well.

The Sea Scout Ship Falcon 11, only Senior Scout unit in Fredonia, was organized in the late summer of 1944, and is now under the sponsorship of Trinity Episcopal Church.

The basic principles of the Sea Scout program are to teach the Sea Scout to care for himself and others on or near the water, to help him become a better citizen to give him the opportunity to serve his community, and to fill his social program.

Sea scouting embodies extensive training in personal safety, covering such phases as First Aid, swimming, life saving, personal health, cooking, and water safety. Maritime training includes communications, canvas and rope work, rigging, and boat-building and repair.

Although activities are largely confined to dry-land ship, each man receives instruction in navigation, piloting and weather forecasting—all preparatory to summer's water activities.

While the uniform closely resembles that of the United States Navy, the program is completely non-military. Drill and discipline are included only to develop the Sea Scout's sense of responsibility to himself and to others.

Take a large cold cream jar, throw in some theatrical grease paint, add a group of enthusiastic students, a capable, determined instructor, and add a pinch of wit and gaiety, mix thoroughly and you will have a perfect duplicate of our Dramatics club.

Early in the year the instructor conducted demonstrations in theatrical makeup and the students took great pleasure in practicing upon each other. So far this year they have had several opportunities for the application of their knowledge.

Everyone in the club wrote an original monologue and the best of them were delivered before an appreciative assembly audience. As we go to press, the club is seriously considering presenting a three-act play to be given in the late spring.

ECHOES OF MUSIC

They shall have music! How could we, the students of FHS have anything other than rythm when we have a music department that can be described only in superlatves?

Through the years, the notes of music and the sounds of happy laughter from the music rooms will echo in our minds. We SHALL have music.

F. H. S. BAND

We Shall Have Music

The music department has soared to stellar heights this year under the direction of Miss Constance Nelson. The band and orchestra have presented a series of concerts. The band, ranking among the foremost activities of our school, performed at football games besides playing for a Boy Scout program. It also presented a Spring concert. Assisting the band with their various activities were the drum major and the majorettes.

The orchestra played at the spring concert and supplied the music for the senior play, "Brother Goose". It will play for the commencement exercises.

Both band and orchestra represented FHS at the Western New York Music Festival.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS — MIXED CHORUS

One of the greatest musical experiences is that of participation in large choral groups. Proof of that statement may be found in the increasing number of students who each year seek admission to the various choral organizations of the music department. This year the personnel of each group has been enlarged in order that a greater number of students might enjoy the benefits of such organizations.

The boys' glee club, girls' glee club and mixed chorus joined in presenting a Christmas assembly concert which will long be remembered by all of us. The mixed chorus assisted the students of Barker and Eagle Street Schools in the presentation of the pageant "America's Music" on November 2. The boys' glee club proved its ability when it assisted the band at its annual spring concert April 27. On May 25 the girls' glee club presented its annual concert. Our groups participated in the Festival held at Fredonia State Teaches College, May 4 and 5.

Oh, hail to thee; Oh, hail

ECHOES FROM FIELD AND GYM

Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

BEAT DUNKIRK!

And what would high school be without a team? Each year FHS puts forth teams, and each year we think that team the best yet—and rightly so—But this year—oh, we really outdid ourselves! For the first time in years, we held our arch rival Dunkirk High School, scoreless in a football game!

See the perfect form exhibited by the football player on the opposite page? He represents Fredonia's attitude on sports: plenty of form—with push behind it. You—the athletes of our school years—always will be among our most cherished memoies. SEND THE ECHOES FLYING.

Good Luck.
Remember Old Pardee and Plane Geometry!! Jim Wells.

Best of Wishes
Buck.

The "hill billies" of FHS under the able leader--ship of a new coach, Victor Lesso, fought through a fairly successful season on the gridiron. The first day of practice opened with the largest squad of candi-dates seen on the "hill" in many years, giving Coach Lesso a good, sufficient supply of willing, prospective football players. With this supply a team, which con-sidered itself quite successful for their first year under a new coach, was buillt around a nucleus of seven letter men, Phil Eaton, Sam Chimera, Vince Incitto Larry McQuiggan, Bob Powers, Don Seydel, and Sam Tramuta.

The season was high lighted when the "Hill-billies" held their bigger rivals, Dunkirk, to a score less tie. The heart breaker of the season came from the hands of the same Dunkirk eleven when during the last game of the season they pulled a 2 to 0 vic-tory over the Orangemen.

The basketeers of Fredonia High school struggled through a rough season to emerge with nine victories and eight defeats. Only two of these victories were in league games.

The most notable quality of the team was their undying spirit and their "One for all and all for one" attitude.

Edward Dailey, center, took the individual scoring record, running up a total of 156 points. He also was high individual scorer for one game when he scored 25 points against Westfield.

The majority of this year's varsity will be back "on the hill" next year to sink the goals for Fredonia.

Other sports this year were baseball, which has been absent for many years, intermural basketball and bowling, ping pong, inter-class track events, and volley ball.

The Leaders' Club was re-organized this year, under the supervision of Mrs. Evarts, to include all girls who had won two letters in after-school sports instead of by popularity vote. Varsity cheerleaders were also included in this group. Letters were purchased for girls who took part in athletic activities. Fredonia and Dunkirk girls exchanged play days and this practice promoted friendships as well as good sportsmanship.

The girls of Fredonia High have again enjoyed the interclass and intramural sports competition. Basketball, which seems to be the most popular indoor sport, has built up the sportsmanship, co-operation ,and team work of everyone. Sports that they participated in were volley ball, baseball and soccer ball. Bowling and archery have been added to the selection of athletic activities to be enjoyed by all interested girls.

The pretty and original cheerleaders of the '44-'45 season have tremendously improved school spirit. The varsity squad added many new cheers to our already long list. Through their untiring, unselfish, and loyal efforts, F. H. S. has come through with flying colors. We thank them for their inspiring enthusiasm and "never give up" spirit. Robert Porter, Jacqueline Augrum, and Carolyn Warn, promising new cheerleaders, will carry on the work of the graduating cheerleaders.
